Where a standard system for a home uses a relatively large array of solar panels, an off-grid system might use one, a few or several of them, often in the form of solar panel kits plus accessories.

A recent study found that solar panels are viewed as upgrades, just like a renovated kitchen or a finished basement, and home buyers across the country have been willing to pay a premium of about $15,000 for a home with an average-sized solar array. Additionally, there is evidence homes with solar panels sell faster than those without.

Most solar panels installed in 2023 have a power output between 370 and 400 watts. When you install high-wattage solar panels, you need fewer solar panels to generate the electricity needed to power your home. The average home needs between 15 and 19 panels to cover its electricity usage, but it will vary from home to home!

Most home solar systems are "grid-tied" meaning that the solar system, home electrical system, and local utility grid are all interconnected, typically through the main electrical service panel. Connecting these systems means you can power your home with solar electricity during the day and grid electricity at night.
